Holmesglen Students AT the
Melbourne Food and Wine
Festival Master Class 2015

Holmesglen Hospitality, Cookery and Bakery students were recently given the unique opportunity to be involved in a dynamic and exciting event - Master Class 2015. This event is part of the Melbourne Food and Wine Festival and each year Holmesglen students are invited back to volunteer at the event held at The Langham Melbourne.

The Melbourne Food and Wine Festival has been running for twenty years with food and wine lovers in their thousands indulging in more than 200 events that fill Melbourne’s restaurants, laneways, basements and rooftops, as well as regional Victoria.

Holmesglen’s Commercial Cookery, Patisserie and Bakery students did an amazing job working alongside world renowned chefs such as Justin Gellatly from Bread Ahead in London, Eric Kayser from Maison Kayser in Paris, Bill Granger from Bill’s in Sydney and George Calombaris from The Press Club in Melbourne and a judge on Network Ten’s Master Chef Australia. The students were able to watch, feel and taste the new, trendy and unique cuisines that are served up from around the world and will hopefully become part of the ever growing hospitality culture in Melbourne.

Students enrolled in hospitality experienced 5 star hotel food and beverage service by being a part of The Langham Melbourne’s food and beverage team for two days. The students were required to set up the various Master Class sessions across the hotel and serve the guests who have come to see the world famous chefs in action.

All students demonstrated a high standard of knowledge and skill, with two students being offered work at The Langham Melbourne. Many of the other students are now focusing on a career in the hotel industry, after their positive experience at Master Class 2015.

A special mention to all the teaching staff that were involved in the event, their training and support of students prior to and during the event was exceptional.

If you have a passion for restoring the interiors of vintage cars or maybe having the opportunity to create the internal furnishings of a brand new boat or plane, then an apprenticeship in automotive and marine trimming is for you.

You will learn to make, install, repair, replace or modify the seats, upholstery, linings (roof and door linings) interior trim and floor coverings of a vehicle. This type of work can be undertaken on cars, trucks, vintage vehicles, buses, caravans, trains, aircrafts and boats.

Once you are qualified you will be able to use your skills to work with a variety of materials including canvas, vinyl and leather. You will be able to manufacture designs from working drawings, use your creative flair to create your own designs and work with industry standard equipment across a variety of sectors.

Where can I find work?
You may find yourself working at a marina, restoring or working on brand new boats or at an automotive workshop working on cars. There are also specialised marine and automotive trimming businesses that work on a variety of vehicles. You could even work for an airline, repairing the inside of planes.

Benefits of an apprenticeship
An apprenticeship is a way to become trained and qualified in a trade or particular type of job. Benefits include:

- The ability to work and earn money while you’re getting your qualification
- A nationally recognised qualification on completion of training
- A mix of classroom or workshop learning (off-job) and practical (on-job) learning
- Real life experience in the workplace

Where can I find out more?
Visit us on Open Days to learn about pathway options and career opportunities in automotive and marine trimming technology.
